KEEP the PROMISE

WHAT IS KEEP THE PROMISE

Keep the Promise (KTP) 2016 is an empowering advocacy platform organized by the AIDS Healthcare Foundation, partners, and CSOs to accelerate the fight against HIV/AIDS. After 15 years the International AIDS Conference (IAC) returns to South Africa. Keep the Promise events will kick off prior to the IAC, on Saturday, July 16, 2016 in Durban, South Africa.

Our KTP events include a March through the city center and a jam-packed Concert featuring international artists Common and Queen Latifah and South African superstars Mi Casa & Big Nuz along with dignitaries and amazing speakers. KTP 2016 focuses on the need for a strong scale-up of global AIDS funding and calls on governments, global funding bodies and individuals to commit to ending the epidemic.

EVENT DETAILS

- No bottles, coolers or beverages allowed
- No children under 16 recommended
- First come - first serve basis
- First 12K marchers get preference into FREE concert

Now is not the time to decrease funding! Now is not the time to give up the fight or slow down the progress. We cannot forsake millions of people who need help, nor give up on the efforts and resources we've already invested into the fight.

We invite you to support Keep the Promise 2016 and participate with us in this historic event in Durban, South Africa on July 16, 2016. Join us! We're asking the world to Keep the Promise to fund the HIV/AIDS response!
